The Coming Conference Of Religious Education To Be Well Attended

The depression has apparently not quenched the enthusiasm of church leaders for the summer conference as a means of training and enlisting new workers. Even in the Middle West which has been hard hit, reports from conferences already held show an attendance up to the average and in some cases the largest in the history of the conference. Registrations for the Northfield Conference of Religious Education, which opens its sessions here Tuesday, July 18, are coming in at the Boston office and are slightly ahead of the record of 1932.

The program of the conference is as attractive as ever and offers plenty of inspiration and practical help. This conference is accredited as a Standard Training School and fourteen of the twenty-six courses offered this year are standard courses. Credits earned for these count toward the standard diploma wherever the additional credits may be earned.

The standard courses offered this year are Principles of Teaching, taught by Professor James P. Berkeley of Andover-Newton Theological Seminary; New Testament, Rev. Alexander Stewart of Gardner, Mass.; Message and Program of the Christian Religion, Dr. J. L. Lobingier, Secretary of Missionary Education and World Friendship, Congregational Education Society; The Teaching Work of the Church, Dr. H. W. Gates, Congregational Education Society; Psychology of Childhood, Miss Jessie E. Moore, Bloomfield, N. J.; Psychology of Adolescence, Dr. Albert H. Gage, Wakefield, Mass.; Methods for Beginners, Miss Moore; Methods and Administration for Primary Leaders, Miss Elizabeth L. Reed, Riverside Church, New York City; Methods and Administration for Junior Leaders, Miss Beattie L. Doherty, Needham, Mass.; Church School Administration, Dr. Gage; Old Testament Prophets, Dr. Vaughan Danby, Dean of Andover-Newton Theological School; Story Telling for Primary workers, Miss Florence Burk, Educational Director, 1st Baptist Church, Worcester, Mass.; Story Telling for Junior workers, Miss Burch, Dramatics and Pageantry, Dr. Ruth Richards Miller; Expression Activities in the Church School, Mrs. J. L. Lobingier, Winchester, Mass.

The Northfield courses include Music in the Church, taught by Miss Mabel Parkes, Fitchburg, of Boston University School of Education; Christ in Modern Missions, Rev. John Brush, New Haven, Conn.; Basic Truths of Christianity and Religions of the World, both taught by Prof. Richard M. Vaughan of Andover-Newton Theological School; and God in Our Teaching, Professor Berkeley.

Six courses are offered, Jesus the Master-Teacher, Mr. J. Brush; Prophet-Pioneers, Dean Danby; Personal Problems of older Young People, and two courses on Youth in the Church, taught respectively by Mr. Stewart and Dr. Lobingier. The personal problems courses are divided into small groups each under the general direction of Dr. Harry T. Stock, Secretary of Young People's work of the Congregational Education Society.

The Methods courses for Primary and Junior leaders will be taught, as before, on the demonstration and laboratory plan. The leaders of these courses are teachers of wide experience and tested ability.

Two of the inspirational features of this conference are the daily chapel assembly and the evening meetings on Round Top. The chapel for the chapel assembly this year is Dr. Boynton Merrill of Second Church, West Newton. He will also be the preacher at the Sunday services, July 23rd. The Round Top meetings will be held for all members of the conference and are in charge of a committee that has made special preparation for a series of unusual inspirational leadership in the ministry of worship through music will be given by the same talented trio that has made this feature of the conference of such value in past years: Mrs. Agnes R. Allen, Musical Director of Bethany Church, Quincy; Miss Mabel Parkes Fitchburg, instructor of Choral Singing, Boston University School of Education; and Mrs. Alfrida R. Hog-

Virginia Camp Opens With Forty N. Y. Girls

From the sweltering heat of the city forty children from the lower east side of New York arrived on Wednesday at the Virginia Fresh-Air Camp. The camp, which has been in operation for twelve years under the guidance of Mrs. W. R. Moody is situated in the picturesque grove of the Northfield camp at the head of Pine St. Here this group consisting chiefly of Ukrainians, Russians, and Italians, spend two weeks enjoying the fresh air and good food made possible by the New York City Mission.

Three different groups will attend this summer, each remaining for two weeks. July 25 and again August 10 new groups come up. The second group will be colored girls who come from Porto Rico and who range from 8 to 12 in age. The others are from 12 to 15. With each group two City Mission workers come and go in accompanying them.

The camp consists of a lodge for reading and for meetings, and five sleeping cabins, together with an outdoor dining room, all located in the Cathedral Pines. Woods and playgrounds abound. All the sports are engaged in; a Ford beach wagon takes them all to Wanamaker lake for the daily swim. Each Sunday morning the entire group sings at the service of the Auditorium.

The name Virginia given to the Camp was in honor of the daughter of Mrs. Moody who died young. The purpose of the camp is not to teach the girls much work or study, but to give them an opportunity to play, to eat, and to sleep.

Miss Hazel Harper of New York is beginning her second year as supervisor. Several college students and Northfield Seminary girls act as counselors. These are Helen Read, Janet Ely, and Harriet Campbell all from Mount Holyoke college; Harriet Haskins, Durham University; Margaret Richardson, Connecticut College, New London, Conn.; Ruth Dean, Brookline, Mass.; Elaine Northrop and Beatrice Reade both of the Northfield Seminary; and Elsie Crowningdale of Barnville, Vt.

Miss Hazel Harper of New York is beginning her second year as supervisor. Several college students and Northfield Seminary girls act as counselors. These are Helen Read, Janet Ely, and Harriet Campbell all from Mount Holyoke college; Harriet Haskins, Durham University; Margaret Richardson, Connecticut College, New London, Conn.; Ruth Dean, Brookline, Mass.; Elaine Northrop and Beatrice Reade both of the Northfield Seminary; and Elsie Crowningdale of Barnville, Vt.

The conference is fortunate in having practically the same leadership for its Young People's Division as last year. Rev. Roy L. Minich, of Malden, is Dean of Young People; Rev. (Mrs.) Alexander Stewart, Director of Girls; and Rev. Henry David Gray, Director of Boys; Girls' counselor: Miss Doris M. Dixon, Mrs. Henry D. Gray, Miss Margaret Mitchell, Mrs. Edith Carleton Potter, Miss Elizabeth Saben, and Mrs. Harry T. Stock; Counselors of Boys: Rev. Ellis Dana and Mr. Thomas Riding. The work of this division has had great influence in the lives of the young people and in their work in their home churches.

The Round Table Conferences introduced last year will be continued and developed. These give opportunity to delegates to discuss practical problems in their own work. The conferences will be held evenings and will cover such topics as: Missionary Education, World Peace, the Liquor Problem, Recreational Leadership, Methods for Beginners, Primary, Junior and Young People, Adult Education, etc.

This will be the thirtieth annual session of the Northfield Conference of Religious Education which it has had during these years of growing usefulness. It is well symbolized by the scene which one may witness at the close of the final Communion and Candle Lighting service held the last evening of the session.

Candles are furnished to each person as he enters the chapel. At the close of the Communion service, these are lighted and the congregation marches out, singing "Follow the Gleam." At the door of the chapel the lines separate, each going to his or her own dormitory. As one watches those lines of living flame going in different directions to the various parts of the lives of the young people, the mission of Northfield in this and in other assemblies, sending forth its message of light and truth to bless the homes and churches and communities to which these delegates return.

Anyone desiring fuller information about this conference may secure it by writing to the Dean, Dr. Herbert W. Gates; or the Registrar, Mr. Carl A. Hempel, at the Boston office, Room 807, 14 Beacon Street, until July 15.

Word was received last Thursday from treasury department of officials at Washington that the application for the charter for the new First National bank of Athol has been granted. The new bank will take the place of both old banks, the Athol National and the Athol National bank.

The Town Meeting Was Well Attended Had Prolonged Session

The special town meeting last Friday night was called to order at eight o'clock by the Town Clerk Mrs. Haskell reading the warrant. Mr. Samuel E. Walker was nominated and chosen as moderator and Myron Damsell and William Dalton were appointed tellers.

The article calling for the payment of services of a constable doing special work in excess of the appropriation was questioned and the matter was left with the selectmen to adjust but not beyond the appropriation. An additional appropriation of $50 was voted to pay for authorized service of constables. The welfare work was voted an additional $2,000 and it was voted to instruct the moderator to appoint a committee of citizens to investigate the welfare work of the town and assist the selectmen in this duty.

An article to change the distance which children must walk to school from one and a half miles to two miles was defeated, the distance that the town shall transport them remaining as before.

A request for an additional appropriation of $1,000 for the School Committee was defeated. The meeting was well attended and considerable discussion took place but it was evident on all sides that the voters want to know more about how their money is spent and why.

Although the Herald printed two weeks ago an explanatory statement regarding the reduction in postage Postmaster State informs us that many people do not understand that the two cent rate is limited in its use for the delivery of letters only within the distribution area of the Post office where the letter is mailed. To send a letter to a person receiving mail at or from the Northfield Post office costs two cents if mailed at the Northfield Post office. If mailed to a person receiving mail at the East Northfield or any other place three cents is necessary. The same rule applies in a similar way to all Post offices.

Northfield Young Lady Has Garden Wedding Under Bright Summer Sky

Last Saturday afternoon at a most colorful wedding, marked by its beauty and simplicity, with the roses and lilies of an old fashioned garden, Miss Clarissa Morgan and W. L. McKinstry were married at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Morgan on Main street. About fifty invited guests, friends and relatives were present at the ceremony which was performed by the Rev. Lester P. White, head of the Bible Department at the Mount Hermon School.

To the noble strains of the wedding march from Lohengrin, played by an orchestra, the bride, attended by her sister, Mrs. James Turner of Greenfield, walked across the lawn from the beautiful old colonial house to an arch of crimson rambler roses, where she was met by the groom and his brother, E. L. McKinstry of West Hempstead, Long Island, who acted as best man. Mr. E. M. Morgan, father of the bride, presented the bride.

Miss Morgan was gowned in cream satin with Duchess and neeplepoint lace which had been worn by the groom's mother at her wedding, and she carried Madonna lilies and maidenhair fern. The Matron of honor wore pale delphinium blue chiffon set off with Brussels lace and carried a bouquet of delphinium.

Following the ceremony an informal reception was held and light refreshments were served. Mrs. McKinstry, who was born in Warwick, is a graduate of Simmons College and has taught in the High and Latin School of Cambridge for several years.

Mr. McKinstry was born in Watertown, N. Y. He is the son of Mrs. W. D. McKinstry of that city and the late Hon. W. D. McKinstry, for many years editor of the Watertown Daily Times and a member of the New York State Civil Service Commission. That Annapolis Chance

Since the announcement of the Herald last week that there is a prospect of two appointments to Annapolis in the First Congressional District, Congressman Treadway has received letters from young men in regard to the same and at least one application has come from Northfield. A press dispatch says:

"On June 19th Congressman Allen T. Treadway announced through the press that no candidate from the First Congressional District had successfully passed the spring examination for admission to the United States Naval Academy this month. He further stated that he would wait a brief period before deciding whether or not he would give the existing vacancy to some young man outside the First District who had successfully passed the entrance examination but who had failed to receive an appointment.

Since the announcement Congressman Treadway has received letters from numerous prospective candidates for Annapolis residing within the First District. He feels therefore, that there will be an ample number of suitable applicants for the preliminary test to be given in the District next October. Mr. Treadway has decided to adhere to his long established policy of confining his appointments to legal residents of the First District.

Young men who may be interested in the Annapolis examinations may obtain full details by communicating with Congressman Treadway at Stockbridge, Mass.

How To Display The Flag

The following rules govern the displaying of the American flag and are furnished through the courtesy of the United States Recruiting Service.

1. Display the flag from sunrise until sunset on National and State holidays, and on historic and special occasions.
2. When displayed at an angle from a building or window, it should be run out to the head of the staff.
3. Always suspend the flag vertically with the union to the north in an east and west street, and to the west in a north and south street.
4. When the flag is displayed in a manner other than being flown at a staff, it should be displayed flat, indoors and out.
5. When displayed either horizontally or vertically against a wall the union should be uppermost and to the flags own right; i.e., to the observers left.
6. When displayed in a window, the union, or blue field, should be to the left of the observer on the street.
7. When flags of two or more nations are displayed they should be flown from separate staffs of the same height and the flags of approximately the same size.
8. When flown at half-staff, it is first hoisted to the head or peak of the staff and then lowered to the half-staff position. Before taking in the flag for the day, hoist it to the peak and then lower it.

South Church

Rev. Frederick Griffin D. D., of Philadelphia, but who has a summer home in Walpole, New Hampshire, will be the minister in charge of the service next Sunday morning at 10.45 o'clock. It is hoped that all persons, who are interested to hear the liberal order of preaching of today, will attend these special July services conducted by noted preachers.

What a lofty appeal to the young man and woman Dr. Horace Westwood made last Sunday in his sermon on the subject: "So teach us to number our days, that we may apply our hearts unto wisdom!" So naturally the young man of Nazareth walked among us pursuing this vision, and showing us how.

Dr. Westwood opened the first of the July special services to be conducted by different members of the Mission Brotherhood and it was an inspiring group which attended the first service. The minister Rev. J. H. Allen of the Barnardston Unitarian Church with their choir, organist and many from the congregation came and conducted the devotional service and the music. No one who attended the church that morning but thought sincerely: "It has been good for us to be here!"

Expectation for Dr. Griffin's coming is quite keen for next Sunday.

The Alliance will hold another one of its enjoyable mid-summer all day meetings at the home of Mrs. C. D. Streeter next Thursday, July 13th. Mrs. C. A. Ware and Mrs. Mary Callender are the assisting hostesses. Lunch will be served at 1 o'clock. Besides bringing something for the lunch, each member is asked to bring work intended for the next sale. Those who desire transportation will please notify the president, Mrs. Max Huber Sr. There will be recreation and a program.

Mission Rally Day
To Be Held Here

The annual rally day of the women's missionary societies of Franklin and Hampshire counties in Massachusetts, Windham county, Vermont and Cheshire county, New Hampshire, at East Northfield, will be held this year on Tuesday, July 11th. Because the foreign missionary and home missionary conferences are holding a joint conference this year, there will be only one rally day for the local societies this year instead of two as in previous years. The meeting will open as early as members can conveniently reach Northfield. Box lunches will be opened on the lawn of Betsey Moody cottage at noon and hot coffee will be served by the management. In the afternoon there will be a joint school of missions covering both the home and foreign fields at which prominent speakers from the conference will address the local societies. The school will be held immediately after the lunch, about 1.30.

Former Teacher Dies

Information received is to the effect that Miss Hettie M. Rowe of Poughkeepsie, N. Y., died there on Thursday June 29th as the result of injuries received in a fall at her home some few weeks previously. The funeral services were held in the Baptist Church there of which she was a member. She had been very active in religious and educational work and will be well remembered in Northfield where she had served as a member of the faculty of Northfield Seminary.

Miss Rowe was born in Wappingers Falls, a daughter of Daniel and Susan Townsend Rowe, who moved to Poughkeepsie when she was a girl. She was graduated from Northfield Seminary and in 1897 from Wellesley College. Many years ago she taught in Northfield Seminary and later in a college at Constantinople, Turkey. She belonged to the Women's Missionary Society of the Baptist Church and was a former president of the American Christian Literature Society for Moslems.

Fresh Air Camp
Will You Help?

Forty two girls, aged 12-15 years, arrived at Virginia Fresh Air Camp last Wednesday for a two-week outing among the pines. Friends around town who are willing to contribute vegetables from their gardens can help materially toward keeping down the expense of the camp commissary. Mrs. Harper, who is in charge, will be glad to receive supplies daily, and will send for them if necessary if friends phone to the camp.

High Alumni Officers

The election of new officers featured the annual business meeting of the Northfield High School Alumni Association held during intermission at the Alumni Ball on June 23.

At that time the following were chosen to serve for the coming year: Ruth Anderson, president; Victor Vaughan, vice-president; Christine Gray, secretary; Esther Williams, treasurer. The Executive Committee is to be headed by Donald Finch and includes: Dean Williams and Florin Coughlan. On the Nominating Committee we find: Elizabeth Eastman, Dorothy Quinlan, Dorothy Stone, Kenneth Leach and Brainerd Willey.

Several Local Masons
At Grand Lodge
Boston Anniversary

The Grand Lodge, A. F. & A. M. of Massachusetts celebrated its 200th anniversary in Boston June 25 to 28. This lodge was originally warranted as a Provincial Grand Lodge under a charter by the Grand Lodge of England in 1738, with the title of St. John's Grand Lodge of Massachusetts.

Maj. Henry Price was appointed first Provincial Grand Master, April 30, 1773, by the then Grand Master of the English Grand Lodge Viscount Montacute.

In 1734 the Earl of Crawford, who succeeded Viscount Montacute as Grand Master of England extended the jurisdiction of the Provincial Grand Lodge all over North America.

In December, 1769, St. Andrew's Grand Lodge was organized in Boston under a commission from the Grand Lodge of Scotland. Gen. Joseph Warren was made Master. Twenty-three years later and twelve years after the death of Major Price, the two Grand Lodges united.

At the gathering in the Boston Arena on the final day, Harmony Lodge of Northfield was represented by the following members: Walter W. Hyde, Richard W. Steenbruggen, William A. Wright and Charles C. Stearns.

Do Your Cooking in Comfort
This Summer

Of course you'd like a comfortably cool kitchen! Even though, with electric cookery, you'll spend less time in your kitchen than before—you will appreciate coolness while you're there.

Heavy oven insulation keeps the heat inside . . . and the design of the surface units concentrates the heat on the cooking operation. Your kitchen will be as cool as any room in your home.

Electric cookery affords more than summer comfort. Its many other advantages—including speed, economy, safety, and dependability—offer you greater leisure and convenience the year 'round.

EDITORIAL

The summer conferences are now with us and they mean much to Northfield. These conferences bring thousands of people to our community who learn to love the place and each year retrace their steps to gain its atmosphere and inspiration. Some among us fall to appreciate the significance of this great effort of Dwight L. Moody and because of narrowness and prejudice do not realize the meaning of it all and cannot comprehend. Perhaps it is best that it is so for ignorance covers a multitude of things and they who have eyes to see, ears to hear and a mind for understanding will not be influenced by idle expressions which have no substantial reasoning.

Again the summer visitors are coming to Northfield in large numbers and this community takes its place as one of the popular summer vacation resorts. Let us all extend a cordial greeting to the newcomers—who are sojourning in our midst—give them the welcoming hand and get acquainted. Perhaps we may like them and perhaps they might like us and from such conditions the whole future growth of Northfield might be determined. Who can tell?

A speaker in Northfield last week said that in the consideration of matters by people they "do not seek the truth on both sides but endeavor to place their thinking as virtues goal and all opposing impressions as false." "It is well to be clever with one's thinking but it is better to be honest with one's thinking first." What a yard stick to measure some random thoughts at our recent town meeting.

Poet's Corner

PASS ON THE TORCH

Pass on the torch, pass on the flame;
Remember whence the glory came;
And eyes are on you as you run,
Beyond the shining of the sun.

Lord Christ, we take the torch
from thee;
We must be true, we must be free,
And clean of heart and strong of soul,
To bear the Glory to its goal.

O Lord of life, to thee we kneel;
Maker of men, our purpose seal!
We will, for honor of thy Name,
Pass on the torch, pass on the flame.

Dr. Allen Eastman Cross

THE HEATHEN

I used to think him heathen
Just because he didn't see you,
He didn't speak God's English,
And he didn't look like me.
He had a burnt complexion,
Which is heathen, goodness knows!
He ate a heathen's rations,
And he wore a heathen's clothes.
But there's a spry, sly, sly fellow
In that bloke from far away;
There's humor in his wrinkles,
And I've heard the beggar pray.
He's kind to little kiddies,
And there's written in his eyes
The willingness to render
All a Christian's sacrifice.
Yes, you'd know him from a heathen
If you judged him by the hide;
But bless you, he's my brother,
For he's just like me inside!

Northfield Ball Team Taken Over The Bumps Twice Last Week

The Northfield A. A. ball team suffered its second successive setback last Monday night at the hands of the Greenfield Old Timers by the score of 8-5.

In the first two innings the visitors collected six runs after which the local boys settled down to better defensive baseball but it was too late as these six runs proved margin enough to win.

The local ball team was taken for a merry ride over the bumps last Friday night by the "Millers Falls Town Team." This is the second time this team has defeated the local boys. The score was 22-9.

In the absence of two of its players Polhemus and Glazier, the local team put on more or less of a makeshift line up. And although collecting nearly as many hits as the visitor they did not come at a time where they would do the most good.

The local ball team crossed bats last Wednesday night with the hard hitting team of Laddies All Stars from Turners Falls. When the smoke had cleared away, the locals again found themselves on the short end of a 10-8 score.

Although collecting more hits than the visitors, a good many of the local boys were stranded on the sacks when the final out of the inning was registered.

"Bob" Shearer pitched good ball for the home team but as half of the visitors 10 hits went for extra bases it put them in a good scoring position.

Paul Urgiewicz of the locals poled out a single, a triple and a home run in three trips to the plate and carried off the batting honors for the home team while for the visitors, Freddie Riel got a single, triple and a home run out of four trips up.

Snappy New Uniforms
The Massachusetts State Police who are doing much duty on the State Roads this summer look rather "classy" in their new uniforms.

The flared blouse is bright blue with dark blue cuffs. Officers and telegraph operators wear trousers of dark blue with an inch-wide stripe; patrolmen wear breeches of a similar color scheme and black puttees. All wear black Sam Browne belts and holsters. Caps are dark blue with a light blue band.

The officer assigned to the State Roads in Northfield recently was alerted to a disturbance upon his two appearances. We will probably see much of him during the coming weeks.

Greenfield Takes Game

The local ball team was defeated in an exceptionally well played game with the Greenfield Old Timers last Friday night at Shattuck Park by the score of 3-1. No errors were credited to either team and both played a splendid game of defensive baseball.

For the locals, Shearer collected three and Williams two of the six hits made while for Greenfield Alex and Welcome were the big stickers.

Both pitchers were in exceptionally good form and showed remarkable ability in the pinches.

Drops Another Game

In the holiday game on July 4 with the Griswoldville Mfg. Co. of Colrain, the local ball team emerged on the short end of the 6-5 score.

The game although an interesting one to watch was rather loosely played in places.

The local boys drew first blood by scoring a run in the second on a two base hit by McDermott and a single by R. Buffum. The visitors retaliated with three in the fifth on two hits, two errors and a base on balls. Not to be outdone Northfield came back in their half of the fifth and scored three on a single by Shearer, a sacrifice by Gordon Buffum, a three bagger by Paul Urgiewicz, and a hit by Williams. To make things sure the locals added another in the sixth on a hit by McDermott, a fielder's choice by Chase, a hit by Bolton and an error by the visitors catcher.

Colrain chalked up two more in the seventh on two errors and a single and scored the winning run in the eighth on two more singles and an dan error.

Russ Purrington of the visitors was the batting star of the day collecting four singles in four trips to the plate, while Bob Shearer, McDermott and Dick Buffum of the home team each chalked up two hits.

Missionary Conference Is Well Attended

The Northfield Missionary Conference opened last Friday evening with an attendance of 600 on the campus with an additional number of several hundred at the hotel and staying in various homes in the town. This year, for the first time, the home mission conference and the foreign mission conference are meeting together.

The various classes and conferences were organized on Saturday morning for the week's work. These will include Bible study, mission fundamentals, missionary education and similar topics. Dr. T. W. Graham, dean of the graduate school of theology of Oberlin college, opened the Bible study courses with a sermon at the auditorium at 9:15 on Saturday. Others who spoke during the week or held classes in missionary work were Dr. Caroline L. Palmer, dean of women at the Biblical Seminary in New York; Dr. Emily J. Warner of New York; Mrs. Elizabeth A. Brubaker of Washington, D. C.; Miss Rachel Benfer of Santa Fe, N. M.; Miss M. Baader of Englewood, N. J.; Miss Helen M. Brickman, general secretary of the woman's board of Missions of the Reformed church; Dr. Oscar Macmillan of Drew University, Madison, N. J.; Miss Margarette Hazard of Union Theological Seminary, New York; Mrs. Moore, Mrs. Francis G. Pinkham of Chicago, Ill.; Miss Margarette Schmidtman of Towson, Md.; Miss Gertrude Schultz of the Presbyterian Board of Foreign Missions; Mrs. Virgil E. Jones, formerly head of the Northfield Missionary Conference for several years.

Young people of the Baptist Church tented in a camp called Camp Seagawa and Camp Saalam, the Presbyterian young folks in Camp Westminster, the Lutherans in Camp Luther, the Reformed Church in Camp Eendracht and a group in Camp Aloha and Camp Kanyona.

History is being made in this conference and despite the serious conditions confronting the mission field there is a wave of optimism and a hope of better things and a brighter day. This conference had for its central theme "The Power of Christ in a Non-Christian World."

The evening meetings in the Auditorium were full of inspiration and well attended and the annual local missionary rally was held on Tuesday with a large attendance of representatives of the churches in Franklin and Hampshire Counties.

Soliciting Committee For Hospital Day

Hospital Day on July 27 carries on a precedent which Northfield has established in former years. Heretofore, Northfield's food sales for the Franklin County Public Hospital have been highly successful, which is as it should be, for Northfield is one of the county towns most benefited by the hospital service. The sale this year is to be held on Mrs. A. G. Moody's lawn on July 27, from 3 to 6 p. m., and will be supplemented by a musical tea.

The committee in charge of soliciting food for the sale includes: Mrs. Willis Parker and Mrs. Kerwin, Lower Farms; Mrs. Thomas Russell and Mrs. A. F. Bennett, Upper Farms; Mrs. F. McCutline, Maple Street; Miss Mary Dalton, East Street; Mrs. N. P. Wood and Mrs. Earl Lilly, Upper Main St.; Mrs. Pefferle, Lower Main St.; Mrs. Streeter and Mrs. Darby, West Northfield; Mrs. Alexander, Mrs. Soland, and Mrs. F. Doolittle, Barber District; Mrs. Pallam and Mrs. Clifford Bolton, Birm Road; Mrs. A. G. Moody and Mrs. E. F. Howard, Highland Ave.; Mrs. Steadler and Mrs. Hoehn, Winchester Road; Mrs. Charles Johnson and Miss Ina Merriman, Main St., East Northfield.

Local Young Lady To Be Married Soon

The forthcoming marriage of Miss Vera Isabelle Wright daughter of Doctor and Mrs. Allen H. Wright of Main Street to Mr. Lawrence R. White of Boston will take place at the home of the bride's parents on the afternoon of Saturday August the fifth at four o'clock, daylight saving time.

Christian Endeavor Conference Here Soon

The Massachusetts Christian Endeavor Conference is called and will be convened in Northfield on Monday August 14th to Sunday evening August 20th. Young people who are already active in positions of leadership or those who have promise of leadership ability are chosen by Christian Endeavor Societies and Unions as delegates to this conference. Any Christian young man or woman who will enter into the Christian purpose of the conference and abide by the regulations, is invited. The conference is planned for the development of leadership in young people's work in the church and all young people wishing to train in this field are urged to attend.

The conference program blends in a most complete way, through worship, class room studies, and fellowship, the experiences of youth making for a real harmony of Christian living. The mornings are devoted to interesting classes, discussions, and devotional services; the afternoons to rest, study, and planned recreation; sunset hours to Vesper Services on Round Top; and evenings to interesting programs in which the delegates have a part.

The leadership of the conference is selected with the greatest care, bringing only those who are thoroughly competent and qualified to guide the thought and life of the delegates. Teaching is only a part of the work of the faculty. They share with the delegates all of the varied activities of conference life and are always eager to give individual help whenever desired. Leading in the work for 1933 will be found the following friends of young people:

Mr. Ralph W. Arnold, President Massachusetts Christian Endeavor Union; Rev. Edwin H. Gibson, Brockton, Mass., Dean of the School for 1933; Mr. George Arkwell, Philadelphia, Pa., Choir Director and Minister of Music; Mrs. Ralph W. Arnold, Junior Superior, and Mrs. E. H. Gibson, Junior, are also members of the faculty.

Young people of the Baptist Church tented in a camp called Camp Seagawa and Camp Saalam, the Presbyterian young folks in Camp Westminster, the Lutherans in Camp Luther, the Reformed Church in Camp Eendracht and a group in Camp Aloha and Camp Kanyona.

History is being made in this conference and despite the serious conditions confronting the mission field there is a wave of optimism and a hope of better things and a brighter day. This conference had for its central theme "The Power of Christ in a Non-Christian World."

The evening meetings in the Auditorium were full of inspiration and well attended and the annual local missionary rally was held on Tuesday with a large attendance of representatives of the churches in Franklin and Hampshire Counties.

American Eagle Shot By Northfield Man

Last Monday morning about ten o'clock Ralph B. Holton of West Northfield shot an American bald eagle on the river bank of his farm. The children had noticed a commotion among the chickens especially with a mother hen and her brood and called to Mr. Holton who went to the house to get his gun. Just as the large bird was rising over the bank with the large chicken in its clutch Mr. Holton fired and both fell.

The large bird proved to be an eagle and Mr. Holton reported at once with the bird to Game Warden Ruberg in the absence of Warden Hughes of this district. Mr. Ruberg pronounced the bird to be an American bald eagle which is protected by law.

It measured 2 feet 10 inches across and weighed 11 pounds. The whole matter will be reviewed by Warden Hughes when he returns. Many citizens of Northfield hope the eagle, now in cold storage, will be mounted and placed in the local History Museum.

Off To Chicago

Last Sunday morning Mr. and Mrs. Albert Anderson of Greenfield, Miss Esther Benjamin of Ashfield, and Miss Nellie Anderson and Frank Anderson of Northfield left town by automobile with a trailer attached for a leisurely trip to Chicago and the Century of Progress Exposition. They go via Albany, Rochester and Buffalo and cross into Canada for a part of the journey.

Local Men Named On Tobacco Leases

Frank W. Williams, Joseph Combalist and Dan Ostrowski of Northfield have been named a committee to receive applications and consider governmental leasing of tobacco lands under the provisions of the Agricultural adjustment act hereabouts. They will work as instructed by Sumner R. Parker of Amherst and Theron L. Warner of Sunderland, Massachusetts administrators under the new act.

All meetings of growers will be held in the evening so as not to interrupt farm work. All those who intend to apply for loans are urged to measure their land carefully as the application blanks call for exact dimensions. This closing date for the filing of applications is expected to be not later than July 20. Inspectors will be employed to see that the farmers carry out the terms of their contract with the government relative to the use of their land.

Bernardston growers will file in Northfield. In Gill, William Jurlewicz is the committee.

On Sunday evening a Ford coupe driven by Adrian Allard of Turners Falls, Mass., crashed into the abutment of the railroad underpass a mile north of South Vernon and was badly damaged, while the driver was cut about the face and head. He was treated for his injuries by Dr. Hubbard at his hospital and later both he and Miss Wozniak were taken to their homes. The accident was investigated by Motor Vehicle Inspector Charles Cadett of Brattleboro.

Carrier Service Curtailed At East Northfield

Owing to the Economy plan of the United States Post Office Department, it will be necessary to make some changes in the service of the East Northfield Post Office. Beginning on Wednesday afternoon, July 12th, and continuing every Wednesday afternoon throughout July, August, and September 1933, there will be no Wednesday afternoon delivery by the Carrier. There will be other afternoons when the Carrier will take off in September, but notice will be given early in September about these days. This is the plan that is followed by most of the Massachusetts Post Offices.

As the cost of notifying each patron would be difficult, this will be the only notice that the patrons will receive of this curtailment of service.

Salvation Army Canvas Here Nearing Close

The local canvass for funds for the Salvation Army in Northfield is drawing to a close and friends to whom the appeal was made should make their contributions now to be included in this year's collection. Saturday's Storm

Northfield was visited by a hard electrical storm and downpour of rain last Saturday evening and at various places some damage was done. Hillsides were badly washed and limbs of trees broken off. Lightning played its pranks and the worst damage was done at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred G. Huber on Winchester Road when a bolt of lightning struck a tree beside the house. The bolt entered the building through the radio aerial and caused much damage in the dining room, where the couple were sitting. Mr. Huber was stunned by the bolt but soon recovered.

The lightning knocked a large hole in the dining room wall throwing plaster to all parts of the room and completely destroying the radio, telephone and electric equipment. It then passed across the roof to a small sewing room and down to the cellar.

STEEL ALONE IS NOT ENOUGH!

—neither strong enough, nor safe enough, nor quiet enough for the body of a quality car like

CHEVROLET

CHEVROLET Why is it that every 12-cylinder and 16-cylinder car in America has bodies of steel reinforced by hardwood? Why is it that every make of car selling for over $4000 uses bodies of exactly the same type? Why? For the same reason that Chevrolet uses it exclusively. Because every test and every experiment have definitely proved: STEEL ALONE IS NOT ENOUGH!

The trouble with steel alone is that it stands just so much shock and punishment. Steel alone is also inclined to rumble and rattle. BUT—when you put the two together—a heavy, staunch steel body over tough, solid hardwood —then the hardwood reinforces the steel—and vice versa! And the result: the strongest, safest type of body, such as Fisher builds for Chevrolet.

Congregational Church

The Sunday School will open at 10 o'clock Sunday morning with all departments in regular session. The church service will open at 11 o'clock when the subject of the sermon will be "Imperishable Gold". The choir will render special music under the direction of Professor Lawrence. The Christian Endeavor will meet at 7 o'clock. Sacramental Service will be conducted at 8 o'clock. There will be a service of song and selections by the choir.

South Church

The preacher for next Sunday morning, the 16th, will be Rev. Dr. Frank Oliver Hall, minister of the Church of The Divine Paternity, New York City. He has been here before, and the impression he created is a vivid memory to those who heard him.

Professor L. H. Hagedorn of Mt. Hermon has kindly consented to preside at the organ and there will be a special soloist from Keene N. H. to sing.

The services last Sunday morning were of special interest. Members of the choir of the North Church and the organist added much to the musical parts. Besides helping with the hymns they rendered the anthem "I Will Lift Up Mine Eyes," by H. Von Berge. Their presence was noted with appreciation.

Dr. Griffin, minister of the First Unitarian Church of Philadelphia, gave a searching discourse in characterization of the first disciples of Jesus. They were unlike each other, two pairs of brothers among them were unlike each other, but through their companionship with the Master the qualities in them were brought into a like loyalty to the principles he taught and exemplified.

The suggestion that the unlike types of men persist in time down the ages, and the speaker's application of it to the present were very interesting.

St. Patrick's Church

Rev. P. E. Carey, pastor and Rev. W. J. Radzik, curate. Masses will be celebrated on Sunday at St. Patrick's church in Northfield at 8.30 a. m. the first Sunday of the month and at 10.30 a. m. the other Sundays.

For Episcopalians

Members of the Episcopal Church who are attending the Conferences or who are summering in Northfield as well as Northfield friends are advised that summer services will be held at St. James' Episcopal Church, Greenfield, every Sunday at 8 and 10.45 a. m. The preacher will be the Reverend Worcester Perkins of the Church of Holy Communion in New York.

Missionary Dies

Miss Sybil G. Brown, retired missionary and known to many residents of the Connecticut Valley died at Los Angeles, June 28. Born in Whately, January 29, 1852, the youngest of 12 children of George and Almira Brown. She attended Deerfield Academy and was graduated at Mount Holyoke College in 1880. She taught in grammar schools in Boston for many years and finally entered the work of foreign missions under the Presbyterian Board. She was sent in 1897 and moved to Glendale, Cal. She was well-known to many of the workers of the missionary conferences of Northfield.

Old Friends Visit Here

Dr. and Mrs. Charles E. Dickerson and Rev. James McConaughy, D. D., were week-end guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Norton on Highland Ave. over the 9th.

Dr. Dickerson will be remembered by many as the Principal of Northfield Seminary from 1911 to 1925. Previous to that he was head of the Science Department at Mount Hermon for twenty-two years, so that his connection with the Northfield Schools covers a period of thirty-six years. Mrs. Dickerson was also a teacher at Mount Hermon before her marriage. They have a host of friends on both sides of the river many of whom took this opportunity to renew old acquaintance.

Dr. McConaughy was also connected with Mount Hermon as head of the Bible work for a period of twenty-one years, leaving in 1912 to take up editorial work in Philadelphia on the American Sunday School Union. He too found here a number of friends of those earlier years.

Northfield Man Named
On Fair Potato Exhibit

The management of the Eastern States Exposition have named a committee with Josiah Parsons of Northampton as Chairman to take full and complete charge of the first annual potato exhibit to be held at the Exposition. On this committee is Mr. Charles A. Parker of Northfield and Lewis Munn of Gill.

More than 4000 acres of Connecticut Valley soil has been devoted to potato growing this year and there is every indication that this acreage will be increased next season. With an estimated average yield of 250 bushels per acre it means that more than 1,000,000 bushels of valley potatoes will be available for this year's market.

In the opinion of agricultural experts, potato growing has come to stay in this section and adds a new major potato area to the two already famous namely, Aroostook county in Maine and the seed potato country of Vermont.

In recognition of this new agricultural industry, the Eastern States Exposition at its 17th annual fall exhibition from Sept. 17 to 23 will conduct its first annual potato show, with two groups, five special classes and 25 prizes. It will be strictly a commercial show with competition open to all potato growers in the Connecticut Valley, who raise one or more acres of potatoes.

Farm Home Week

Farm and Home Week will be observed at the Massachusetts State College in Amherst July 25-26-27-28.

G. F. Warren, economist from Cornell University, who proved so interesting last year, will again give two talks. Mordecai Ezekiel, who is economic adviser for Secretary of Agriculture Wallace, will tell how New England farmers may profit through the new Farm Act. Twelve practical fruitmen will tell of short cuts they have made in their spraying, harvesting, and marketing programs.

A complete program may be obtained from the Extension Service, Massachusetts State College, Amherst, Massachusetts. The list of meetings for men includes: fruit, poultry, dairy cattle, tobacco and onions, farm management, forestry, beekeeping, commercial vegetables, and lawns.

Former Seminary Teacher
Dies In California

Word comes from Claremont, California of the death there of Miss Fidelia Phelps, on Monday July 3rd, a retired Missionary and a former teacher at Northfield Seminary. She had made her home since retirement at Pilgrim Place, a home for retired missionaries and teachers in Claremont, Calif., although she has often visited Northfield since.

Miss Phelps was for 41 years under the American Board of Commissioners for Foreign Missions in Inanda, Natal, South Africa, as principal of Inanda Seminary. Born in Strongsville, O., in 1855, she was graduated from Westfield Normal School in 1874 and attended Mt. Holyoke College, then a seminary. After leaving Mt. Holyoke she taught for two or three years at Northfield Seminary and then went to Africa where she first taught in a school at Graaf Reinet. In 1884 she became affiliated with the Women's Board of Missions, now associated with the American Board, and was retired from active service in 1920. Inanda Seminary where Miss Phelps taught for so many years, is the oldest school for Zulu girls in Natal, South Africa, and was founded in 1869.

It is a pity more people do not take advantage of the present low prices of securities. There is infinitely less risk in buying today than at any time in the last fifteen years. We have prepared a list of securities in which we believe there is more than average opportunity to profit.

EDITORIAL

"Al Smith, writing in his New Outlook, is doubtful whether present methods adopted to pull us out of the business depression will work. The basic cause of our troubles, he says, is human nature. Only by raising the general level of human character throughout the world can we create a new society, free from the causes that bring collapse."

So writes an Editor in reviewing the publication and we are quite inclined to agree with him.

Do you know how much service Franklin County Public Hospital gives our town? Since January first, Mrs. Earl Lilly, district nurse, has taken ten children for clinical service there: one for general medical attendance, seven for adenoids and tonsils, two for eye treatment. In addition the clinic has served those sent to them by town physicians and local organizations.

Franklin County Public Hospital deserves your support for the splendid work it is doing. A great part of its service is to those unable to pay, or to pay only in part. A considerable amount, above the institution's endowment, must be made up by contribution and subscription. Northfield may contribute by sponsoring the food sale and musical tea to be held July 27. What the local board nets at that time will be of aid in furthering the policy of the hospital, to help those in need.

"The good will of a successful business is worth a lot of money. People spend fortunes creating such a good will. Similarly the good will of a community is worth a great sum. If a town is known widely as a fine residence place, that reputation constitutes a good will of high value. It draws intelligent and useful people there to live and do business. When the dwellers in a place can say nothing but good of it, its good will becomes an asset of incalculable value."

This is sound logic from the pen of the Editor of the Recorder. Is it true as a fact in Northfield?

Lum and Abner

Lum and Abner are their names and they are already won a wide following among the boys of Northfield. The boys of the town are already won a wide following among the boys of Northfield. The boys of the town are already won a wide following among the boys of Northfield.

The boys have a long established reputation as air entertainers within the Cleveland area where they were discovered by Ford automobile dealers who sponsor the broadcasts. There is admittedly a certain homely hominess about their efforts that appeals to all types of listeners.

Friday evening, incidentally, is the big day in the community of Pine Ridge where the boys trek down to the village schoolhouse and the neighbors are invited in, the broadcast period is extended to a half hour into which more action is crammed than would be believed possible, and a gala day atmosphere is the regular prescription.

Although early to surmise, there are even now those who are ready to admit Lum and Abner have what it takes in the line of light diversion to keep them in public favor. In other words, Lum and Abner have arrived and moved in for a long and welcome stay on the air waves. The Ford dealers seem to have registered a ten strike in their initial radio program choice.

Crossnore Appeals

An appeal again comes to Northfield friends of Crossnore School Inc. of Crossnore, North Carolina for assistance. For several years, Mrs. Hoehn, who is interested in the institution has forwarded boxes of clothing and will do so again this fall.

Many friends also have contributed money and Mrs. Hoehn will be glad to accept any gifts and money for this school. There are 122 children all of these 83 are orphans and absolutely dependent. Of the orphans about 40 are being cared for during the school vacation period. Any assistance may be sent direct to the school or to Mrs. Hoehn.

OLD MAN HARD LUCK

Old Man Hard Luck
Travels every road:
Pizen as a rattler,—
Homely as a toad,—
Leaving briars and brambles
Everywhere he goes;
Handing out a thistle
When we crave a rose!

Old Man Hard Luck
Knocks at every door;
Small distinction makes he
Twixt the rich and poor,
Woes he has a plenty
On his peddler's pack,—
Fertile his invention,
And his heart is black!

Old Man Hard Luck
Enters every life;
Bitterer than worm wood,—
Keener than a knife;
Death and isolation
Follow in his wake;
Hopes will dim and vanish—
Hearts must ache or break!

Spooks may not dismay us,
Neither ghost nor ghoul,
But Old Man Hard Luck
Daunts the bravest soul!

GOD'S FLOWER GARDEN

A vast estate stretched many a mile
With costly shrubs and flowers
rare,
The terraced slopes and marble
pools,
Showed fortunes spent for watchful care.

We gazed with awe at such a scene,
But did not dare to venture near
Lest we disturb a blade of grass,
The very insects seemed to fear.

"Do not trespass," "Keep off the grass,"
We read the signs on every side.

A high wall hid the mansion grand,
A great iron gate spanned driveway wide.

Beyond the bounds of this estate
A hillside pasture met the eye,
A rail fence straggled up its side,
A giant pine tree touched the sky.

Here and there in every nook,
Their golden hearts raised to the sun,
A sea of pure white daisies waved,
Free for the hand of anyone.

Forgotten are those other blooms,
But happy memory new recalls,
A hillside sloping to the clouds,
With daisies beckoning to all.

Northfield Wins

The Northfield A. A. ball team took the Pastime A. C. of Greenfield into camp last Wednesday night by the score of 14-5.

Bob Shearer pitched a fine brand of baseball for the local boys and got into hot water only when errors were made behind him.
The local team found the offerings of all the three visiting pitchers to their liking. Williams and Polhemus each pounded out three hits each and Kersavage and Urgielewicz each chalked up two hits.
Welcome and Alex were the only two visitors to connect for more than one line. The summary:

Defeat Charlemont

The Northfield A. A. used two pitchers to defeat the Charlemont field boys liking and they scored

Here's Something to Think About:

The public buys more Goodyear Tires than any other kind—this is the eighteenth successive year . . . The public wouldn't buy more Goodyear Tires if Goodyears did not offer greater value . . . But they do offer greater value, hence they enjoy greater sales . . . Are you wondering what tire to buy? Just ask yourself this simple question:
"Why should I buy any tire but a Goodyear when a Goodyear costs no more?" . . . We think you'll decide it by coming right down to see us.
